

Weird Road Signs From Around The World

Here we present some of the weird and wonderful road signs from around the world that are making motorists chuckle as they make their way through traffic.

Brentwood, UK

This forthcoming road sign in Brentwood, UK isn't doing a very good job of keeping the secret nuclear bunker under wraps - it's almost like they want us to know where it is.

Edinburgh, UK

This Edinburgh road sign is both violent and confusing - do we want to hit the pedestrians? is this a traditional Scottish sport that the rest of the world is missing out on?

Overstekende dove kat!

Holland

Keep an eye out South Holland's most loved feline, the deaf kitty can't hear you coming and we're not sure how many lives it has left!

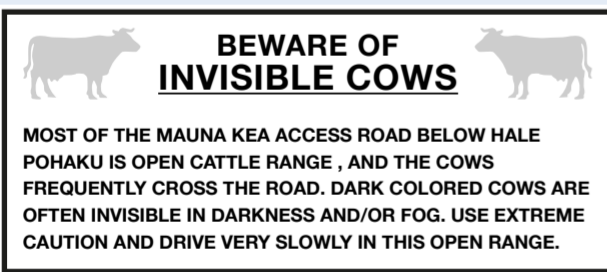

Canada

Well, Canada, while we do love your beautiful countryside, that's a bit of an unfair demand to make!

UAE

We're not sure the kind of road surprises you should expect in the United Arab Emirates, or how you should prepare for them, so maybe it's best to just turn around if you ever come across this sign on your travels!

Hawaii

This road sign from Muana Kea, Hawaii is certainly unexpected - we don't hear about invisible cows very often!

India

India is certainly top of the charts with its many witty road signs, but we like this one that plays homage to the country's full-bodied landscape.

Queensland, Aus

This sign in Queensland, Australia is one of the most confusing - are the cows getting revenge and playing a game of car-tipping? Here's hoping we never find out.

ZOMBIES AHEAD

US

US is doing its best to alert everyone far and wide that the end is nigh. Now who would have guessed a zombie apocalypse could cause such road delays?

China

We doubt that china is really endorsing a trip to a racist park - at least, we hope not!
